

In the course of my work I have met many individuals with varying levels of speech impairments including Dr. Bob Segalman. While he stands out as one of the key leaders of the speech to speech relay there are many more that need and depend on this service for every day and essential communications. Without this service they are not able to function independently. VID-STS can provide access to emergency services not available to many potential users now.